You know what's fun? Doing another Virginia Tech testing round and seeing how lovely and discolored my water is. Bottle 1: My Tap, Bottle 2: Service Line, Bottle 3: City Main. Yum #FlintWaterCrisis

What I have learned today: Edwards thinks Flint is full of scared, dumb, dirty people. Apparently we are too dumb to read lab tests and reports so he doesn't release them so we can go through them. Apparently we are also too dumb to wash our hands and the rashes are in our heads. He loves to talk about our "fear" so it shows he doesn't know us well at all!!

*And since you say you feel showering in Flint is safe, I have a shower with 100 ppb of Chloroform, 510 ppb of 1,4 Dichlorobenzene, Bromodichloromethane, and lots ACETONE waiting for you!! Come on over and take a week's worth of long, hot showers. False alarm, yeah ok.

*RESIDENTS: Stand up for yourselves!! Tell your story. Let the world know that this State and Federally-funded narrative is a lie!!! Doesn't my water look beautiful??? My lead is sky-high and I will be releasing the results of my Virginia Tech tests shortly.

Melissa Mays My test came back really high and they tried to blame my water heater. We test with cold water, not hot water. But they like to try to isolate us and tell us it's just our house when it's a lie

Melissa Mays My highest levels are not inside of my home, it's coming in from the city. The entire infrastructure needs to be replaced from the water treatment plant all the way up into our TAPS in our homes. We didn't contaminate everything, the state did and the state needs to pay. They need to stop funneling money to paid off experts who will push their lie. They need to put that money to Flint residents who they've poisoned and tortured.

Mary Holm-Secor WTH, What about the testing being done by Wayne State on the Legionella Bacteria. How the hell is that safe when you have young children, elderly, or high risk patients? Is he saying these people are stupid too?

Melissa Mays They refused to talk about that. The Virginia Tech studies are funded by the state and the EPA so they are going with a narrative that our water is so much better. They didn't even talk about Wayne State.

Mary Holm-Secor Sorry I think I believe the people in my backyard, before imports.

Mary Holm-Secor They have never giving me one reason to doubt them. I would call they out on it if I felt I needed too. I wonder how Wayne State feels right now?????

Melissa Mays Just like we do, lied about and pushed to the side. Because they have evidence that goes against what the state is trying to sell people

Hi Scott,

Nice chatting the other day. The leader of the Wayne State team, Shawn McElmurry, says he'd be happy to meet you for coffee when you're in town. His email is s.mcelmurry@wayne.edu. Just let him know what your schedule is like and you guys can work something out directly (though feel free to CC me).

Best,

Ben

Scott Smith My heart goes out to all residents of Flint and please know that I along with the great team around me stand with the entire community of the #flintwatercrisis : Karma, Truth, and Justice will prevail for the residents of Flint as we have facts that are Irrefutable and cannot be comprised by Gov Snyder and his taxpayer funded minions. Stay positive and we will prevail!!! Melissa Mays Rhonda Kelso

Hi Scott,

I wanted to let you know that I gave your number to Shawn. I have to warn you that Shawn is completely overwhelmed right now, so don't be offended if he doesn't get in touch right away.

Cheers,
Ben
